

OPEN SECURITY SUMMIT

Sponsorship Opportunities

ABOUT THE SUMMIT

Are you tired of traditional conferences where you shuffle from room to room trying to find nuggets of useful information? Would you rather spend your time working with small, diverse teams to further a goal? If the answer is yes, the Open Security Summit is the place for you!

Following the successes of previous summits, using the same model, this 5-day event will be a high-energy experience, focusing on facilitating collaboration between cybersecurity professionals. Each day, a series of participant-led working and user sessions will enable attendees to create solutions for real-world problems in the stimulating company of fellow experts.

The Open Security Summit isn't possible without the support of our generous sponsors. Each with a differing reason for supporting our events. Some see it as a fantastic opportunity for staff development, some wish to further the open source cause, and others support us to close the skills gap in Cybersecurity.

Whatever your reason for supporting the Open Security Summit, this document aims to provide you with details of our sponsorship opportunities and packages.

Thank you for your support.

OUR PAST SPONSORS INCLUDE

"The Open Security Summit feeds energy into solving real-world problems and provides great opportunities for collaboration with experts and others facing the same issues in their workplace. We sponsored the 2018 Women in Tech track intending to close the gender gap in the security environment and the 2019 Summit Outcomes. Sponsoring these summits was money well spent! It's always rewarding to see so many like-minded individuals huddled together to reach the same goal. We've made lasting connections with the summit attendees and expanded our network."

Jamie Davis, JeMarketing Services Ltd, 2018 and 2019 Sponsor
